How good is television news reporting? [Phonorecord] Santa Barbara, Calif., Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions [1973]. No. 611. (Broadcasting and The First Amendment, 2)

reel. 5 in. 3 1/2 ips. 1 track. cassette. 2 1/4 x 4 in.
SUMMARY: Network representatives face such questions as: Does the fact that the networks are private enterprises, run for profit, inhibit their ability to present the news fairly? Does national television offer adequate access for the presentation of minority and dissident opinion? Why do polls show that the public rates the broadcasting industry just above labor unions in terms of responsibility?

The development of 21 cm. radio astronomy. (Sound recording) Washington, Spring Green Multimedia, p1974.
1 cassette. (UniConcept scientist tapes)
Recorded July 1969.
Duration: 10 min.
Same content recorded on both sides.
Notes in container.
SUMMARY: The author discusses how radio astronomy has been of great help in studying stars which are hidden behind clouds of interstellar gas, and how he derived the 21 cm. spectral line created by splitting the hydrogen atom. He also notes how the measuring of this line can tell astronomers relative positions and motions of stars in the galaxy.

Institut national de musique.
Ecole royale de chant et de déclamation lyrique (founded in 1784 as Ecole royale de chant) and Institut national de musique (founded in 1792 as Ecole gratuite de musique de la garde nationale parisienne) merged in 1795 to form Conservatoire de musique. Since then, the Conservatoire de musique has undergone the following name changes:
Ecole royale de musique et de déclamation; Conservatoire royal de musique et de déclamation; Conservatoire impérial de musique; and Conservatoire national de musique et de déclamation. In 1935 the name was changed to Conservatoire national de musique et d'art dramatique; in 1946 to Conservatoire national de musique; and in 1967 to Conservatoire national supérieur de musique.
Works issued by the bodies prior to the merger in 1795 are found

Duration: ca. 15 min. SUMMARY: Dr. Aaron Janoff discusses research being done on emphysema which suggests that the disease is caused by the destruction of connective tissues in the lung called elastin. The agent for this destruction is thought to be elastase, a proteolytic enzyme. Dr. Janoff also comments on the possible development of drugs that would inhibit elastase formation. 1.
